

NORMAN P. BAGWELL

Norm Bagwell is the Chairman of Bank of Texas. For the past 15 years, he served as CEO of Bank of Texas and EVP of BOK Financial. During his tenure, he was responsible for all Regional Banking, Commercial Banking, and Treasury Management across the eight-state footprint. He received his B.A. and B.B.A. degrees from Southern Methodist University where he is a distinguished alumnus from the Cox School of Business.

From 1998 to 2007, Bagwell served as the Dallas President of JPMorgan Chase and its predecessor, Bank One Dallas. In this role, he served as the senior executive in the market and was responsible for commercial banking activities in the Dallas region.

Bagwell currently serves as Chairman of the Baylor Scott & White Dallas Foundation. Norm serves on the board of directors for SMU Cox School of Business, State Fair of Texas, Junior League of Dallas, and Panola Company LTD. He is a member of the Salesmanship Club, Maverick Chapter YPO, Dallas Assembly and Dallas Citizens Council. He is past chairman of the Dallas Regional Chamber of Commerce and a past trustee of the Salesmanship Club Foundation.

Bagwell was awarded the Chairman's Leadership Award from the Dallas Regional Chamber of Commerce in 2001. In 2005, he received the Distinguished Alumni award from the Cox School of Business at Southern Methodist University, as well as the Torch of Conscience award from the American Jewish Congress. In 2013, Bagwell and his wife, Robin, received the Margaret Sharpe Award for Community Service. Bagwell received the Chandler Dykes Leadership Award from Texas Woman's University in 2018, and has been recognized as one of the region's most influential business leaders by DCEO Dallas 500 for each of the past seven years.

Bank of Texas is a division of BOK Financial Corporation, a $47 billion bank holding company operating in eight southwestern states. Regional banking brands include: Bank of Texas, Bank of Albuquerque, Bank of Oklahoma, and BOK Financial.